THE WOLF'S LEAP

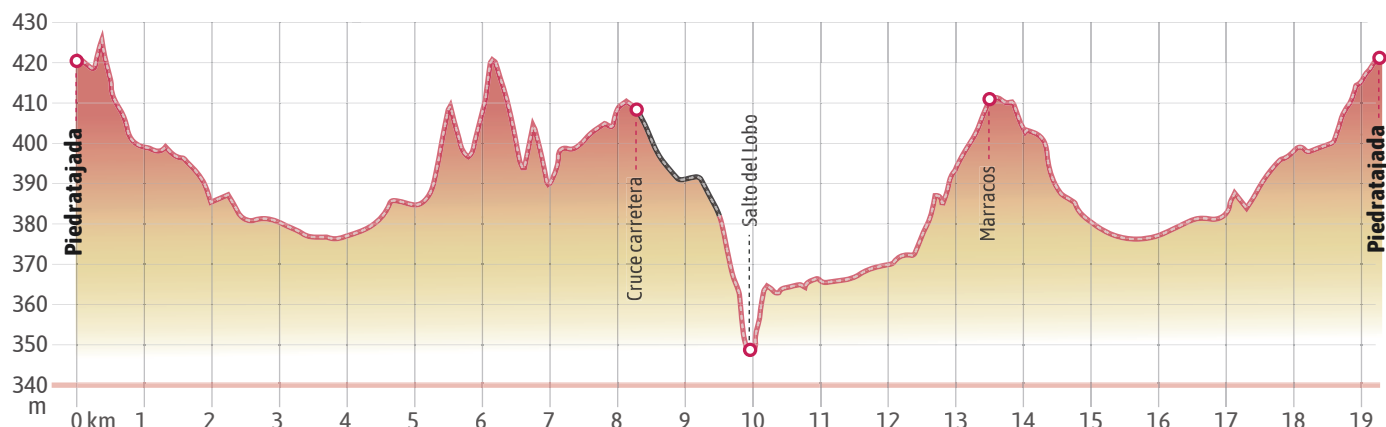

A perfect mountain bike route along rural tracks and small stretches of quiet roads, suitable for families.

The route which takes place along rural and steppe landscapes, typical features of the south of the Cinco Villas region, visits the waterfall known as "Salto del Lobo" (the Wolf's Leap). The route starts in the village of Piedratajada and follows the path toward the cemetery. Soon after you will see the town of Marracos. However, the route heads south to follow a short stretch of road and turns toward the hydroelectric power plant and the "Salto del Lobo" waterfall.

It is worth finding a spot in the Gállego riverbank to take a close look at the waterfall and the power plant facilities. The perfect place to take a break and picnic.

After visiting the waterfall, the route heads back to Marracos. It goes through the village until it reaches the main access road, where you will follow the same track you took from Piedratajada to Marracos in the opposite direction.
